

FOR THE DISTRICT OF NEW JERSEY

IN RE AMENDMENT TO PROCEDURES FOR REQUESTING, :
FILING, AND MANAGEMENT OF HIGHLY SENSITIVE : STANDING ORDER
DOCUMENTS AND GUIDANCE FOR SAME : 2024-03

WHEREAS, in 2021, the Judicial Conference of the United States' Executive Committee urged all courts to take immediate action to protect Highly Sensitive Documents ("HSDs") from security threats to the Case Management/Electronic Case Filing (CM/ECF) system;

WHEREAS, this Court responded to this plea by entering Standing Order 2020-01 dated January 26, 2021, to add new security procedures to protect highly sensitive documents filed with the courts in response to widespread breaches of both private sector and government computer systems; and

WHEREAS, in 2024, acting at the Executive Committee's request, the Committee on Court Administration and Case Management ("CACM") reviewed existing HSD guidance to determine if there was a need for a standardized HSD definition or augmentation of the guidance offered previously; and

WHEREAS, CACM determined that there was a need for both a standardized HSD definition and augmentation of the guidance offered previously and thus revised and updated their previous guidance; and

WHEREAS, good cause exists to adopt the CACM's revised HSD Guidance, Attachment A, which includes a standard definition of HSDs, a dedicated procedure for filing, serving, and maintaining HSDs, and factors to be considered by judicial officers in determining if a document is an HSD; accordingly

IT IS ORDERED, effective immediately, that:

HSDs will be filed and served in paper form (or, if digital media, on a secure electronic device, such as a flash drive), in accordance with this Order and the HSD Guidance, Attachment A, and will be maintained by the clerk's Office in a secure paper filing system and/or secure standalone computer system that is not connected to any network; and

1. Documents and Materials Subject to this Order¹

- a. Definition: A Highly Sensitive Document (HSD) is a document or other material that contains sensitive, but unclassified, information that warrants exceptional handling and storage procedures to prevent significant consequences that could result if such information were obtained or disclosed in an unauthorized manner.

¹This Order and the guidance set forth herein does not apply to classified information.

- b. Although frequently related to law enforcement materials, especially sensitive information in a civil case could also qualify for HSD treatment.
 - I. Examples of HSDS: Examples include ex parte sealed filings relating to national security investigations, cyber investigations, and especially sensitive public corruption investigations; and documents containing a highly exploitable trade secret, financial information, or computer source code belonging to a private entity, the disclosure of which could have significant national or international repercussions.
 - II. Exclusions: Most materials currently filed under seal do not meet the definition of an HSD and do not merit the heightened protections afforded to HSDs. The form or nature of the document, by itself, does not determine whether HSD treatment is warranted. Instead, the focus is on the severity of the consequences for the parties or the public should the document be accessed without authorization. Most presentence reports, pretrial release reports, pleadings related to cooperation in criminal cases, social security records, administrative immigration records, applications for search warrants, interception of wire, oral, or electronic communications under 18 U.S.C. § 2518, and applications for pen registers, trap and trace devices would not meet the HSD definition.
- c. HSDs vary in their physical form and characteristics. They may be paper, electronic, audiovisual, microform, or other media. The term “document” includes all recorded information, regardless of its physical form or characteristics.

2. Requesting HSD Designation

- a. Any party seeking to file an HSD must, before such filing, seek leave of court by filing a motion for HSD designation, and a certificate of service if the motion is not ex parte.
- b. A motion for HSD designation must be accompanied by a certification of the movant’s good-faith belief that the material meets the HSD definition.
- c. The requesting party must articulate why HSD treatment is warranted, including, as appropriate: the contents of the document; the nature of the investigation or litigation; and the potential consequences to the parties, the public, or national interests, in the event the information contained in the document is accessed or disseminated without authorization.
- d. The requesting party must include the proposed HSD, and a proposed order that provides the information stated in paragraph 3 below. DO NOT PLACE THE WORD “PROPOSED” ON EITHER OF THESE DOCUMENTS. Instead, attach a separate cover sheet with the caption and words “PROPOSED HSD” and “PROPOSED ORDER’ on each of the documents. The court requires this so the clerk’s office can file the HSD if the order grants the motion. Please see Section 4.

- e. If the motion and proposed HSD are not ex parte, the requesting party shall serve the proposed HSD on the other parties as follows:
 - Civil cases - by any manner specified in Rule 5(Civil b)(2), except service cannot be made via the court’s electronic filing system; or
 - Criminal cases - by any manner specified in Criminal Rule 49(a)(3)(B) or (a)(4).
- f. The motion, the proposed HSD and proposed order, and accompanying material described above, shall be filed in the clerk’s office in a sealed envelope marked “HIGHLY SENSITIVE DOCUMENT”. The outside of the envelope shall be affixed with a copy of the HSD’s caption page, including the case number if one has been assigned (with confidential information redacted). If the motion and proposed HSD are ex parte, that should be identified in the caption as well. A party mailing the documents shall then place the marked envelope described above in an outer envelope for mailing.

3. Order Granting HSD Designation

An Order granting a motion for HSD designation, or directing the filing of a document as an HSD on the court’s own motion, must:

- a. State the identity of the persons who are to have access to the documents without further order of court; and
- b. Set forth instructions for the duration of HSD treatment. HSDs are stored temporarily or permanently offline as the situation requires. When designating a document as an HSD, courts should indicate when the designation will automatically lapse or when the designation should be revisited by the judicial officer. HSDs should be migrated as sealed documents to the court’s electronic docketing system and unsealed, as appropriate as soon as the situation allows.

4. Filing An HSD

- a. If an order grants a motion for HSD designation, the Clerk’s Office will take the proposed HSD and file it as an HSD.
- b. The clerk will maintain the HSD in a secure paper filing system and will store the HSD on an external drive connected to a secure air-gapped standalone computer system that is not connected to any network.

- c. The clerk's office will make a restricted informational docket entry in the court's electronic filing system indicating that the HSD was filed with the court. The docket entry shall not include personal or other identifying details related to or contained with the HSD.
- d. An opinion or order entered by the court related to an HSD may itself constitute an HSD if it reveals sensitive information in the HSD. If the court determines that a court order qualifies as an HSD, the Clerk's Office will file and maintain the order as an HSD and will serve paper copies of any filing issued by the court.
- e. The Clerk's Office will make a restricted informational docket entry in the Court's electronic filing system indicating that the HSD opinion or order was filed with the Court.
- f. An HSD in the lower court's record will ordinarily be also regarded by an appellate court as an HSD.

5. Safeguarding Internal Communication

Care should also be taken in internal court communications regarding HSDs, including notes and pre-decisional materials, not to include the protected substance of HSDs in any communication using the Internet or a computer connected to a network.

6. Questions about HSD Filing Procedures

Any questions about how an HSD should be filed with the Court pursuant to this Order should be directed to the Clerk's Office at the respective courthouses: Trenton – 609-989-2065; Newark – 973-645-3730; Camden -856-757-5021.

ATTACHMENT A

HIGHLY SENSITIVE DOCUMENTS DEFINITION & GUIDANCE

Highly Sensitive Documents (HSDs) are a narrow subset of sealed documents that must, for their protection, be stored offline. The added protection for HSDs is important because, in the event of a breach of the courts' electronic case management system by a sophisticated actor, those documents are more likely to be sought out and stolen, or their unauthorized access or exposure are likely to have outsized consequences beyond that of most sealed documents, or both.

The following definition and guidance are intended to assist courts in identifying highly sensitive documents and managing the offline handling of HSDs. This guidance does not apply to classified information, which should be handled according to the Classified Information Procedures Act (CIPA) and the Chief Justice's Security Procedures related thereto, 18 U.S.C. app 3 §§ 1, 9(a).²

(a) Definition: A Highly Sensitive Document (HSD) is a document or other material that contains sensitive, but unclassified, information that warrants exceptional handling and storage procedures to prevent significant consequences that could result if such information were obtained or disclosed in an unauthorized way. Although frequently related to law enforcement materials, especially sensitive information in a civil case could also qualify for HSD treatment.

- i. Examples of HSDs: Examples include ex parte sealed filings relating to: national security investigations, cyber investigations, and especially sensitive public corruption investigations; and documents containing a highly exploitable trade secret, financial information, or computer source code belonging to a private entity, the disclosure of which could have significant national or international repercussions.
- ii. Exclusions: Most materials currently filed under seal do not meet the definition of an HSD and do not merit the heightened protections afforded to HSDs. The form or nature of the document, by itself, does not determine whether HSD treatment is warranted. Instead, the focus is on the severity of the consequences for the parties or the public should the document be accessed without authorization. Most presentence reports, pretrial release reports, pleadings related to cooperation in criminal cases,

² The Chief Justice's Security Procedures (criminal prosecutions) and the Department of Justice (DOJ) regulation 28 C.F.R. § 17.17(c) (civil actions) govern classified information in any form in the custody of a court. Such classified information may not be filed on CM/ECF or any other court network or standalone computer system. Courts are assisted in their protection of classified information by classified information security officers, who are detailed to the courts by the DOJ's Litigation Security Group, a unit independent of the attorneys representing the government. Courts should direct questions regarding how to handle classified documents to the DOJ's Litigation Security Group. social security records, administrative immigration records, applications for search warrants, interception of wire, oral, or electronic communications under 18 U.S.C. § 2518, and applications for pen registers, trap, and trace devices would not meet the HSD definition.

(b) HSDs: Sources and Characteristics

- i. HSD designation may be requested by a party in a criminal, civil, appellate, or bankruptcy matter.
- ii. HSDs vary in their physical form and characteristics. They may be paper, electronic, audiovisual, microform, or other media. The term “document” includes all recorded information, regardless of its physical form or characteristics.
- iii. An opinion or order entered by the court related to an HSD may itself constitute an HSD, if it reveals sensitive information in the HSD.
- iv. An HSD in the lower court’s record will ordinarily be also regarded by an appellate court as an HSD.

(c) HSD Designation:

- i. A court’s standing order, general order, or equivalent directive should include the HSD definition set forth in (a) above and outline procedures for requesting, filing, and maintaining HSDs. ii. The onus is on the party, including the Department of Justice and other law enforcement agencies, to identify for the court those documents that the party believes qualify as HSDs and the basis for that belief. In moving for HSD treatment, the filing party must articulate why HSD treatment is warranted, including, as appropriate: the contents of the document; the nature of the investigation or litigation; and the potential consequences to the parties, the public, or national interests, in the event the information contained in the document is accessed or disseminated without authorization.

iii. Judicial Determination:

A. The presiding judge (or, when no presiding judge is available, the chief judge) should determine whether a document meets the HSD definition by evaluating whether a party has properly articulated sufficient reasons for such treatment, including the consequences for the matter, should the document be exposed. Most applications for HSD treatment are likely to be ex parte, but the presiding judge should resolve any disputes about whether a document qualifies as an HSD as defined in (a) above. The fact that a document may contain sensitive, proprietary, confidential, personally identifying, or financial information about an entity or an individual, that may justify sealing of the document or case, does not alone qualify the document as an HSD.

B. In making this determination, the court should consider properly articulated concerns that the unauthorized access or disclosure of the information contained in the document at issue would result in significant adverse consequences that outweigh the administrative burden of handling the document as an HSD. As a general matter, courts should give careful and appropriate consideration to the concerns articulated by the executive branch in matters implicating the authority of the executive branch to oversee the military and safeguard national security. If relevant, the court has the discretion to consider the impact of the heightened protection provided by offline placement to any other party's right of access.

(d) Exceptional Administrative Treatment for HSDs:

- i. Filing: HSDs and requests for HSD treatment will be accepted for filing only in paper form or via a secure electronic device (e.g., USB stick or portable hard drive).
- ii. Handling: The court must handle the HSDs by storing all information offline. Furthermore, any pleadings or other filings created in connection with the proceedings should not disclose the subject matter of the HSD (including information that may identify the place, object, or subject of an ex parte filing).
- iii. Docketing: Docket entries for HSDs should not include personal or other identifying details related to or contained within them. For example:

8/25/22 [no link] SYSTEM ENTRY-Docket Entry 92
Restricted until further notice (Entered 8/25/22).
- iv. Storing: HSDs shall be stored and handled only in a secure paper filing system, or an encrypted external hard drive attached to an airgapped system (i.e., entirely disconnected from networks and systems, including a court unit's local area network and the judiciary's network).
- v. Safeguarding Internal Communication: Care should also be taken in judicial communications regarding HSDs, including notes and predecisional materials, not to include the protected substance of HSDs in any communication using the internet or a computer network.

(e) Duration of HSD Treatment: HSDs are stored temporarily or permanently offline as the situation requires. When designating a document as an HSD, courts should indicate when the designation will automatically lapse or when the designation should be revisited by the judicial officer. HSDs should be migrated as sealed documents to the court's electronic docketing system and unsealed, as appropriate, as soon as the situation allows.
